ABOUT US

Denver Health's School-based Health Centers offer specialized pediatric-focused care to treat most health conditions that affect school-aged children. Services are available throughout the school year to any Denver Public Schools (DPS) student, Emily Griffith Technical College students, or child that attends a DPS affiliated Early Childhood Education center within Denver County. In many cases, students are able to get same-day or next-day appointments. To schedule your appointment you can call (303) 602-8958 or one of the clinics directly.
