A Special Event with National Geographic and NREL

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

The National Renewable Energy Laboratory's (NREL's) Black Employee Resource Group (ERG) invites middle school students and their parents to attend a special Black History Month event at Dora Moore ECE-8.

Students and families will watch clips from The Space Race, a soon-to-be-released film from National Geographic about the first Black pilots, engineers, and scientists that became NASA astronauts. Stephen Leach from National Geographic will introduce the film and talk about creativity and diverse storytelling at Disney.

NREL researchers from the Black ERG will also share their education stories. Students will learn about the researchers' scientific passions, their journeys to NREL, and how they are leading the clean energy future here in Colorado.

All students and families are welcome and encouraged to participate and ask questions!
